

ALL-NEW FORD F-150 RAPTOR

BFGOODRICH ALL-TERRAIN T/A K02 TIRES

ARE MORE CAPABLE THAN EVER

New tread pattern features more tread area and wider channels between the tread, as well as large sidewall lugs to enhance off-road performance in sand, mud and over rocks.

New internal steel and nylon belts allow the tires to conform better to the road to make the truck more comfortable on the street.

Overall tread life of all-terrain tires is improved due to a new tread pattern.

Ford and BFGoodrich engineers spent hundreds of hours using computer simulations to predict how the tires would react in real-world driving situations.
